

Montana Conference on Suicide Prevention

The Montana Conference on Suicide Prevention is the only statewide annual conference on suicide prevention in Montana. Hosted by the Big Sky Council of AACAP and NAMI Montana, this conference brings together advocates and professionals in learning about suicide prevention strategies in the state and across the nation and equips attendees with strategies in reducing suicide.

The conference is free and open to the public, but registration is required. Conference space is limited. The target audience includes: advocates, psychiatrists and other physicians, psychologists, therapists, nurses, physician's assistants and regular Montana citizens interested in preventing suicide. Continuing Education Units (5.0 CEU SWP/MFT/LAC) will be available.
